VOL. II.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1883.

NO. 159.

BULGER, the Maysville rapist, will climb the golden stairs next Tuesday.

A NEWHOFF has returned from the East, and is in new goods up to his chin.

THE forty-shocks corn-cutting liars will soon be heard from throughout the land.

PEN up your hogs and give them a taste of green corn and some unadulterated laziness.

DAN LYONS was held over in bonds of $250, in Cynthiana, for shooting with an intent to kill.

THERE's a black man white-washing and a white man black-washing out at our fair grounds.

WANTED—To exchange a good linen duster for a first-class overcoat.—[Hite from '32 to '83 inclusive.]

THE Cerro Gordo Guards will go to Frankfort to-morrow from Mt. Sterling, to attend the inaugural ceremonies.

PLANT your fall advertisements now and cover them deep with liberality, and in a short time you'll harvest rich returns.

THE Carrie Stanley Dramatic Company will play at our Opera House during the fair week, commencing Monday night.

A SHOWER of wheat straw is reported from Big Spring, Meade county. A whirlwind had evidently been getting in its work.

T. O. BASHFORD, the bill-poster, has been making a several days' run over the K. C. and C. O. roads billing the various excursions.

At the State meeting of the Christian Church now in session at Cynthiana, 150 preachers and a large membership are in attendance.

THE Press says that 7,000 people attended the Lexington fair Wednesday, and of course the attendance was much larger on "Dude day"—Thursday.

THE Third National Bank has been organized at Lexington with a capital of $100,000. It takes the place of the private bank of Grinstead & Bradley.

MT. STERLING is learning city ways fast. Her indebtedness exceeds her assets $2,977.22, and the cost of running the place one year exceeds the income $1,825.

YOUR uncle Jack Frost blew his breath on the fair Wednesday night. We are constrained to remark that your uncle Jack should be made to g'way from dar'!

"Best display of ferns in bloom," is the way it reads in the Lexington fair catalogue. One thousand dollars will be paid for a fern bloom delivered at this office.

GOV. BLACKBURN Wednesday pardoned Martin Calpin and Frank Rawlings, sent to the penitentiary from Louisville respectively for nine and three years.

W. P. CHAMBERS was elected as City Councilman Tuesday night, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. H. Lockhart, now a resident of Carlisle.

JOE BLACKBURN has withdrawn his candidacy for the Speakership of the U. S. Congress, in favor of Carlisle, and has announced himself a candidate for U. S. Senator.

A COLORED man named Cash Clay, got his hand caught in the machinery of Capt. Thomas' planing mill yesterday, and it was badly crushed before it could be extricated.

IN our published list of ex-members of the Second Ky. (C. S. A.) Infantry living in Bourbon, we inadvertently omitted the names of Jas. E. Paton E. T. Phillips and "Cap" Allen.

SMITH KENNEY has found abundant surface indications of a rich lead mine on his farm. Specimens brought to this office show more than half pure lead in large lumps of ore.

SAMUEL ROGERS' little child, aged about one year, swallowed a spider Wednesday, and died from the effects of the poison in three hours, in the Plum Lick neighborhood.

A HEAVY wind and thunder storm prevailed between here and Millersburg Tuesday afternoon. The lightning struck the tree in Wm. Tarr's yard. The fall of rain was light.

A BURGULAR stole $25 from Capt. Wm. Sawyers, at Winchester, Monday night, and Wm. McKenzie got severely cut in the jaw by M. B. Anderson, in a falling-out over a horse feed.

DAVIS & DAVIS will probably move their merchant tailoring establishment to the grocery room now occupied by Lovely & White. They say that they are too much crowded where they are.

THE De Molay Commandery of Knights Templar, on Louisville, won the prize at the drill of the Grand Conclave at San Francisco. The prize is a solid silver vase twenty-four inches high, and weighs 200 ounces.

IN publishing a so-called list of the Orphan Brigade in Bourbon county, the local editor of the Kentuckian has made it as clear as mud (by some unaccountable military combination) that the 2nd Ky. Regiment was the First Ky. Brigade.

JOE SPEARS, of this precinct, left with this office, a basket of the finest and largest peaches seen in this city this season. He informs us that he has a large crop of the same, and can supply all local orders left between now and the first of October.

BARNUM'S manager has telegraphed to Ed. Swift, at Lexington, that he will parade all his hippodrome and menagerie, including Jumbo, around the circle at the fair grounds at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. This will be a drawing feature for both the fair and circus.

THE K. C. and C. O. roads have consented to issue certificates at their Lexington office, to those attending the reunion of the Orphan Brigade next Wednesday, allowing return tickets at one cent per mile. Certificates to be valid unless presented on or before Sept. 7th.

THREE precincts in Scott county will vote September 22d on a proposition to subscribe $50,000 to the Paris, Frankfort & Georgetown Railroad.

KID GLOVES in Opera Shades fitted and warranted; all styles of collars, Handkerchiefs, hose, corsets, nobby coin and sterling silver Jewelry, and in fact everything for the ladies, new, neat and cheap at Mrs. J. E. Paton's.

MONDAY will be Court-day. Call in and tell us how you're getting along abusing the tobacco worms and the weather, and how you've been disappointed about money—from sources where you never expected to get a dollar.

IT is now rumored that Jumbo won't be on exhibition at Lexington, on account of his special car being unable to pass through the K. C. bridges and tunnels. It is said that Monarchist will be the largest elephant on exhibition.

THE first twenty miles of the Kentucky Union Railroad will be advertised to be let for construction about the 5th of September, and the company say that cars will be running from Winchester to Clay City by the 1st of July, 1884.

EXCURSION trains will leave Lexington after Barnum's circus Saturday night, for both Covington and Maysville. Round-trip fare from here, 75 cents, including circus ticket, $1.25. The Lexington fair will also be held on Saturday.

MAYOR PURNELL enforced the law Tuesday regarding pool tables, and has ordered the marshals to arrest all owners of such tables as are run without the payment of the $25 license as required on all billiard tables. Several table-owners have already made application for licenses.

IT'll soon be time for John Hite to say "carve dat 'possum," and a few words about "R" being in September and "delicious bivvies." Particularly is the 'possum's collision with pokeberry time a refreshing event too, in way of a news item, to the news-hungry people.

W. W. GILL and George Siedner having obtained the fair privileges for selling water-melons, have purchased several thousand extra fine melons from Wilson's Bottom, Mason county, Kentucky, and can supply the trade in general, in the city and out, at astonishingly low figures.

WE stop our calamity mill just a moment this morning to say that the State of Missouri is getting Col. Frank James in a mighty tight place, and it is feared that he will have to fight his way out. The whole neighborhood around Gallatin is swearing against him just as hard as it can.

MISS ADA MILLER, granddaughter of Mrs. T. P. Shelman, was married at the death-bed of her grandmother, at Canaan, Ohio, week before last. Miss Ada was to marry a week later, but Mrs. Shelman wanted to witness the ceremony and it was performed at her bedside just before she died.—[Carlisle Mercury.]

FOUR pickpockets giving the names of Smith, King, Edwards and Jones, were arrested at the Lexington fair Wednesday. They had stolen four pocket-books containing something over $100 in sum total. The arrest of all four were made by Deputy Sheriff Hall, who came up on them dividing the swag in rear of a cluster of buggies.

THE K. C. road is red hot and running over with excursions of all classes, and it is now a hard matter to get a seat on a passenger train going in any direction. The Ohio river passenger traffic is now all coming around this way from Maysville. All this month has been a picnic for the road, and it will be kept up for at least six weeks later.

THE Lexington fair had her "Cincinnati day" Wednesday, and four pickpockets were gathered in by the boys in blue. Now it behooves the officers of our association when they announce "Flat Rock" and "Jackstown's days" to put on an extra police force and be on the mammoth alert. Two crowded "Black Maria" coaches may be looked for on Thursday—"Flat Rock" day.

CLAY WILSON has been scaring the negroes mightily on Cane Ridge of nights lately, by making an unearthly noise like a wild beast, with a "dumb bull." One night recently a yellow-eyed mulatto slipped out and shot at what he called a "link," and since then there's been a "missing link" in the neighborhood. It is said that there's a good deal of fallen corn now in the neighborhood.

HAVEYLY'S MINSTRELS, "The Blackbirds of a Nation," are billed for an exhibition at our Opera House, for Sept. 12th. The Indianapolis Journal says of them: "Haveyly's Minstrels played to a packed house last night, and gave the best performance ever witnessed in this city. There is ever a tone of quiet refinement about Haveyly's Minstrels that surrounds no other company, and the most cultured and refined patron will find them a source of pleasure and amusement."

A High Testimonial.

IN announcing the fact that her music school will open in this city next week, Mrs. Isaac Clay appends the following testimonial from her teacher in Cincinnati, under whom she has been receiving instructions for several months:

CINCINNATI, AUG. 29th, '83.
Mrs. Isaac Clay being perfectly competent to teach my method of playing the Piano-forte, I give her this testimonial in order to recommend her to anyone who desires to learn this instrument with success.
HENRY G. ANDRES.

A Grist that Didn't Go Through.

GOV. BLACKBURN was yesterday besieged by an immense army of pardon seekers. The most conspicuous case was that of Redmond, who killed the clerk of the Bourbon House. To the honor of the executive be it said he refused to interfere in this case, emphatically asserting that he would rather cut off his right arm than do so. He said that ten out of twelve of the jury had been for conviction, and two for acquittal and that he would not back his judgement against that of the ten good and true citizens. Other cases were refused in equally short and emphatic terms. Even Judge Jewell failed to procure a pardon for which he applied.—[Lexington Transcript.]

SCINTILLATIONS.

—The first day of our fair will be Dude-day.—[Walter.]

—Tilton Shannon, of Kansas, has returned to his old home at Carlisle.

—J. H. Letton and son left here Wednesday, for a trip through Texas.

—Capt. Pate Miller returned Tuesday, from a short visit to friends in Missouri.

—D. D. Conway's baby, who has been quite ill with flux, has about recovered.

—Walter Conway, formerly of Carlisle, now drives a milk wagon at Lexington.

—Joe Newhall graduated at the Stanford steam mill in just one week, and is back at the shop again.

Several parties from here attended the State Christian Missionary Meeting at Cynthiana Wednesday.

—The Carlisle Mercury reports Cashier F. E. Congleton still improving in health, on his Western tour.

—Rev. J. M. Evans has returned from evangelizing at Hustonville, where he had 23 accessions to the church.

—A dudine walking up street yesterday with a dude, was heard to ask him "if Jumbo was an opera singer?"

—Mrs. H. H. Long, of this city, has a finely executed crayon of Col. A. M. Swope on exhibition at the Lexington fair.

—The Misses Hickman returned home Thursday, after an extended tour through the Eastern States and Canada.

—Miss Nannie Shy will open school at the Rafferty school-house, near Blue Licks on September 3rd.—[Carlisle Mercury.]

—It is said that hugging wears a bear out within twenty years. If that be true, preacher bears must be very short but sweet-lived.

—Miss Katie Purnell, of Millersburg, has arrived here to be the guest of her brother-in-law, Mayor W. M. Purnell, for several weeks.

—Mrs. Hattie Hill having returned from a tour East and through Canada, is now preparing to go to Richmond, Ind., in a few days, to teach an Art class.

—It is queer to observe how naturally the right arm of some of our young men will freeze to calico these pleasant evenings—particularly on the back streets.

—It is softly whispered by the little birds that jump from bush to bush, that Major Morey, of the Cynthiana News, is soon to wed a fair lady of Kansas City.

—A sleeping car conductor on the K. C. R. R. road asked an old lady if she wanted a double berth. "Goodness sakes alive, no!" she cried, "How could a body of my age handle a pair of twins?"

—An absent-minded woman, in this city, put corn-plaster on a letter and stuck a postage stamp on her corn. Neither the letter nor the corn went away; she having neglected to write "in haste" on the left hand corner of her stamped corn.

—At the Cynthiana Hop Friday night, Miss Cirra Bacon, of this city, wore a hand-painted white satin; Miss Sallie Redmon wore a blue silk and pink Jersey; Miss Lizzie Wilmore a white Paris muslin; and Miss Lizzie Taylor, of Millersburg, a terra cotta silk and velvet.

—THE NEWS is in receipt of a neat card saying: "Miss Katie B. Davis and W. O. Hinton will be pleased to see you on Monday evening, Sept. 3rd, at 8 o'clock, to meet Miss Annie Vaughn, at Pleasantwood, Bourbon County, Kentucky." Miss Vaughn is from Paducah, and will be a guest of Mrs. John T. Hinton, during the fair.

—Lake Mooseheadmagenticlocknahnajus, in Maine, is pronounced a popular summer resort. And we should think that was about the only way it could be pronounced. Another popular resort in that State is Mattaloonkpatapziscoskeagttbowackoung-shosserriggagwamunk, but very few people resort to the task of spelling it.—[Norristown Herald.]

—The Transcript says that the landlady of a certain maison de joie of that city, has the mottoes "God Bless Our Home" and "The Lord is my Helper," hanging on the inner walls, and that she indulges in fervent prayer every night. She explains away the inconsistency by saying that she does not consider herself responsible for the morals of her "boarders."

—Dr. David Lyman, of the firm of Brooks & Lyman, druggists, who ever keeps a sharp lookout for the fastidious wants of bon-ton society, has gone to Cincinnati to select a line of specialties in way of ladies' toilettes and nice little peculiarities too numerous to mention, specially for the fair, hops and theatrical performances. Of course, every lady who does not want to be badly let, will call and be numbered among the beautiful and extremely happy.

WEDNESDAY was "Cincinnati Day" at the Lexington fair. Among those who attended on a special train, were: Mayor Stephens, Judge Von Martels, B. P. W. Boyce and Doll, City Clerk Henderson, Presidents Sadler and Smith, of the Boards of Councilmen and Aldermen, and several members of those bodies. A number of Exposition Commissioners also attended.

Barnes On Ingersoll.

IN reviewing Ingersoll's "Mistakes of Moses," the Rev. Geo. O. Barnes says: "It is a terrible book, because unanswerable. It is from the orthodox standpoint. My heart bleeds for the man who wrote it. To me the answer to all he writes is simply this: 'You have mistaken my God.' Not a winged arrow he shoots smites a joint in my heavenly harness now; but I would not have read that book ten years ago for a thousand worlds. To-day, thank God, it helps me; for I know God. Col. Ingersoll does not seem to me to be an 'infidel' in the popular sense of the word, but rather an intrepid man driven to bay by a devil on God's throne. I will not relinquish the hope that one day he will see my God and worship at His dear feet. How pathetic the closing sentence of one of his chapters, where after describing the things that our God is charged with by those who know Him not as He is, he writes: 'If there be a God, I pray Him to write in His book, opposite my name, that I denied this lie for Him.' The sentence thrilled me, for my life is devoted to the denial of just such lies against my blessed God and Father.

May the devil, who is at the bottom of all this deception of us all, throw a boomerang in Col. Ingersoll's case that shall smite himself heavily in the recoil. This bold man has the courage of his convictions, and writes what thousands think in secret.

"Col. Ingersoll is not an infidel." If I know one, I never read his book until yesterday. I warn all who are not intelli-bly impressed in God's LOVE not to touch his book. To such it will be "good reading," to others death by poison.

A Good Brass Band.

THE band from Carlisle which furnished music for the Colored Odd Fellows last Saturday is said to be the best of its color in the State, having taken several prizes over other bands.—[Richmond Herald.]

The Herald evidently hasn't heard our Paris band. When it does hear it, there'll be repenting in coffee-sacks and ashes for making that rash speech.

He "Got There Ell."

ELI HUMPHREYS, a man of sin and sorrow, got sentenced in the Mayor's Court Wednesday morning to a term on the city rockpile for the fifth time this summer, for drunkenness. His friends had only paid him off from a late sentence Saturday evening last. Eli always repents and promises to do better, but has a weakness for the flowing kill-me-quick.

At Cynthiana a night or two ago, Henry Bell and Wesley Ross had a deadly combat. Bell's wife was down the street, and it being late she insisted on Ross going home with her. They were met by Bell, when hot words ensued. Bell knocked Ross down, jumped on him, jerked out a knife and began cutting him in a fearful manner. He inflicted several ugly gashes in his head and one in his hand. After cutting him he grabbed a rock, fracturing his skull. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and pronounced his wounds of the most serious nature. He was taken to his home, where he now lingers in a critical condition.

Bourbon Female College.

CATALOGUES are out announcing the opening of the above named college, September 10th. The Faculty for the scholastic year of '83-'84, and their allotted departments are as follows: A. Sanders, Principal, Mathematics, Telegraphy and Book-keeping; Miss Lizzie Ford, Latin and Natural Science; Miss Sue M. Talbot, French and English Literature; Miss Annie Finch, History and Reading; Mrs. E. A. Muth, German; Miss Emily Holliday, Art; Miss Carrie Bivens, Wax and Fancy Needlework; Music Department—Prof. A. M. Gutzett, Piano and Organ; Miss Alice Ford, Pianist; Miss Allie Sanders, Organist and Vocalist.

It will be observed that each teacher has his or her specialty—a specialty in which he or she is best adapted to teach—the ruling principal being that a shoemaker is better adapted to make shoes than he is to teach music, French or German, and that French or German teachers are better adapted to teach French and German than to make shoes. Lawyers cannot set type, neither can type-setters practice law and the like lawyers. Every man and woman to his or her trade; every teacher to his or her trade, as it were. See!

The school bids fair to open under the most favorable auspices.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.

J. W. Allison took three premiums on Jacks and jennets at the Lexington fair Wednesday.

Bob Owen, of North Middletown, came in for a share of the Short-horn honors at the Lexington fair Tuesday.

Caldwell & Mason, dealers in wool and yarn manufacturers' supplies, Philadelphia, have suspended. Liabilities, $10,000.

The programme of the fall meeting at Latonia, which is on September 15th, is regarded by turfmen as one of the most attractive announcements of the season.

Eight hundred head of Jersey cattle and a number of ponies, sheep and hogs, valued at $75,000, were landed at Chester, Pa., yesterday, from Hull. The animals will be quarantined.

Old corn is worth $3 per barrel here now. The new crop will be cut very short all over the county. At Mulrs it is said that the crop won't average two barrels per acre. A man from Robertson county says it won't make over a barrel there.

Cyclone proved himself to be a first-class trotter on Tuesday, winning the 227 trot in three straight heats, and beating the finest field that ever trotted here, and making two heats in 2:25. He is the property of Col. M. M. Clay, of Bourbon, and is by Caliban.—[Lexington Press.]

DEATHS.

W. S. Caldwell, of Nicholas county, was very quietly married in Carlisle, yesterday, to Miss Alice Norvell, sister to Joe Norvell and Mrs. Judge T. F. Hargis.

Benjamin Doty, an old resident of the Millersburg precinct, died in Lexington Tuesday, from the effects of a sunstroke the preceding Wednesday. He was the father-in-law of John Isbell and R. G. Griffin, of this city and a precinct.

BOURBON FAIR LOCALS.

Gentlemen attending the Bourbon fair and hops, will be notified on with neatness and alertly, by the office of Professor James Frazier and his police assistant, opposite the Bourbon House, up-stairs.

V. Boos, the confectioner, who keeps the finest assortment of French candies and confections in the city, announces that he has added a line of groceries, including the finest old whiskeys and wines to his stock. Give him a call if you want the pure "juice"—a few doors above the Thurston House.

Batterton & James desire to call special attention of visitors to the fair from a distance to their well-known and popular saloon, on Main Street, where the oldest and finest liquors, the best lemonades and fancy drinks, cigars and tobacco can be obtained. A fine billiard room is attached, and all patrons will be made comfortable and happy.
